

Paper: Retrieval-Augmented Generation (sample notes)

RAG combines parametric generation with non-parametric document retrieval.

A retriever fetches relevant passages that condition the generator output.

Benefits include better factual grounding and easier knowledge updates.

Common issues include retrieval misses and sensitivity to chunk quality.